TASTING 2018

Dc:fiNE
FOOD & WINE

Welcome to the 19th Grand Tasting.

As you'll see, I've got a bit carried away with the line-up this year. It's our most premium of selections to date, but by far the most exciting with some spellbinding wines before you. Be brave, be bold and taste at least 5 wines that are completely alien to you.

As ever, I'm hugely grateful to the suppliers that have graciously sacrificed a Sunday to share their wares. Please be nice to them, they're sensitive souls, passionate about the wines they're presenting.

These wines are almost entirely from small domaines, the bottled spirit of a family's graft and dedication over a number of years, if not generations. They won't all be to your taste, but please at least give each wine you taste a chance. Try and understand why they exist, why the hell I bought them and in what context they should be enjoyed- our table hosts are well placed to talk you through this.

I've attached a golden star on one wine on each table. I'm not saying these are better than any of the others- that's like saying a damn fine lamb cutlet is better than a juicy rib-eye steak- they are merely a personal marker of what I consider to be the most compelling wine on each table that you should endeavour to taste.

I've taken a socialist approach to pricing this year. You've bought your tickets, so whether you buy 1bt or 100bt, you will receive a 10% discount. To appease the capitalists, if you spend more than £500, we'll refund the cost of your ticket. Those wines that feature more than a 10% discount are marked as SPECIAL. In essence, all of these wines are special, you just need to find those you like the most, and buy them!

Many thanks for your support.
